SYNOPSIS

The arrogant, selfish Emperor Kuzco is betrayed and turned into a llama by the ambitious Yzma and his bodyguard Kronk. The emperor, who once had everything, is forced to put his trust in a friendly, simple peasant called Pacha.

FILM QUOTES

Try to remember which character says things like this and when:

“- I will destroy your people to build my swimming pool.

- And what will happen to those of us who live here?”

“We'll go shoulder to shoulder to get the pot!”

“The world is perfect because others make it.”

QUESTIONS FOR YOUR FILM GROUP

1. What is Kuzco like at the beginning of the film? And what is he like at the end? What happened during the transformation -to his personality and his appearance? Why does this transformation into an animal help to turn him into a better person?
2. Why do you think that a character like Kuzco believes that everyone is selfish, while someone like Pacha sees good in everyone? How do these very different characters learn to trust one another?
